

CSA Contract

Upon signing and payment, the CSA subscriber understands that there might be unexpected weather events and growing conditions that may adversely affect the CSA subscription bouquets. This is a risk that the subscriber is willing to take along with the farmer.

That Girl's Flowers is excited to bring a little extra joy to your home by providing beautiful, organic flowers for your table. That Girl is committed to providing the best quality blooms possible.

Flower CSA

That Girl's Flowers

That Girl's Flowers is a certified organic cut flower farm located near Clarksville, Ohio. All flowers are grown on Nellie's parent's farm, That Guy's Family Farm.

Nellie aka "That Girl" grows flowers for grocery stores, florists, weddings, special events, one farmers' market, and her flower CSA. Nellie is a farmer florist, meaning that in addition to being a flower farmer, she is also a floral designer. Her services are available for weddings and events.

Flower Bouquet CSA

If you are a flower enthusiast and always have flowers in your home, then a flower CSA is a perfect option for you. A CSA stands for Community Supported Agriculture. To be a member of a CSA, you purchase a subscription upfront and reap the benefits of having premium, local flowers gracing your table all season. You can choose from a weekly, bi-weekly, or monthly bouquet subscription filled with the best flowers the season offers.

When you purchase a CSA subscription, you are investing in a farm and therefore supporting local agriculture, local flowers, and your local economy. Instead of going to the grocery store to buy chemically laden flowers that have traveled thousands of miles, you can buy bouquets that are brimming with vibrant, certified organic, and unique blooms that can't be found in the commercial floral industry.

Flower bouquets are picked up at the farm on Wednesday evenings from 4-6pm.

That Girl's 2017 CSA

To purchase a subscription, mail in this page (front and back) with your chosen subscription marked and contract signed. Please send in a check made out for the full amount specified. That Girl's Flowers will send you a receipt upon payment.
